

Icelandic Ski Association

National alpine head coach

The Icelandic Ski Association (SKÍ) seeks Head Coach for its national team's alpine program.

The Head Coach is responsible for leading, coaching, developing and administer all aspects of both the women's and men's alpine program including preparation for the 2019 World Ski Championship.

The Head Coach assumes additional responsibilities for the overall Ski Team program, i.e. the junior team and the development team.

Responsibilities

- Oversee coaching for the alpine national team's.
- Manage and plan training camps and race trips on behalf of SKÍ.
- Recruit coaches / assistants on SKÍ projects.
- Participate in forming SKÍ future strategy.
- Cooperate with SKÍ's education committee for coaches seminars.

Qualifications and educational requirements

- Coaching experience of elite alpine athletes.
- Education with in alpine coaching.
- University degree in sports is preferred.
- Very good abilities in human relations.
- Fluent English. Preferable some German skills.
- Ability to work independently and take initiative.

SKÍ is searching for an individual who is passionate about alpine racing, is capable of independent work and has very good communication skills. The job is for one year and is part-time, not full time.

The Icelandic Ski Association works within The National Olympic and Sports Association of Iceland.

Applications shall be submitted by email to ski@ski.is, marked "Head Coach" before June 6, 2018.

For more information please contact Mr. Jón Viðar Þorvaldsson, secretary general of SKÍ, tel: +354-6604752 and, e-mail: ski@ski.is.