

Reykjavík Ski Team (SLRB) is seeking high-energy coach for our senior alpine race programs (groups U18 and U20) for the 2016/17 season. The SLRB ski team is located in the capital area in Iceland and is a well-respected, long-established competitive race program that skis and trains in the Bláfjöll ski arena from November through June. Our athletes are committed and our parents supportive. We offer training every weekday when the arena is open and weekends (approx. 6 training sessions per week). Two coaches will collaborate on coaching the team.

Tasks:

- Ski and fitness training for pre-season and race season
- Organization and preparation
- Collaboration with racers and goal setting
- Individualized planning for each racer (approx. 20 racers)
- Responsible for communication of information with members of the board of the ski team
- Responsible for personal continuing education/retraining

Competence:

- Strong background in alpine ski racing and coaching, including modern training techniques and video analysis
- Recent personal experience of ski racing is an advantage
- Motivation for high results
- Initiative and independence
- Minimum trainer two diploma

Application:
