Invitation

Dear National Ski Associations,
Dear Former Athletes,
Dear Active Athletes,

You are kindly invited to participate at a two-hour online brainstorming Workshop ("World Café") to be part of FIS' development process of a future seminar and exchange on the important topic of Sports Integrity.

SPORTS INTEGRITY

FIS has partnered with the UMIT TIROL University (Hall, Austria) as a research partner to provide evidence-based and tailored prevention programmes to its athletes (initially clean sport). This partnership was now extended to co-create and implement a platform on which Sports Integrity will be discussed in its entirety with multiple stakeholders present. To explore current interests and needs regarding this topic, all potential participants shall be given a voice, to create an attractive and target-oriented seminar.

Step 1 – completed. Initial exploratory interviews were conducted at this year's FIS Spring Meetings in Dubrovnik to receive insights in current understanding of the term Sports Integrity. It was clear from these interviews that this term is very abstract for many people and that there is no common understanding of what Sports Integrity entails.

Step 2 – Workshop "World Café" now brings together (former) athletes, athlete support personnel and representatives of the national ski associations to discuss the topic in the group. Within this step we want to find solutions on how the planned Sports Integrity seminar can actually be designed and implemented to ease the identified difficulties in understanding and advance our work in Sports Integrity.

In order to be able to offer an interesting and useful seminar in the future, we hope for your valuable support by participating in the online World Café on one of the following two dates:

- Thursday, 05.10.23, 14:00-16:00 CET
